The American Coatings Show and Conference 2024 Offer Unparalleled Opportunities

The 2024 American Coatings Show and Conference is fast approaching, and I am excited to welcome everyone in advance for what is expected to be an exceptional knowledge exchange and a showcase of innovation. ACS 2024 remains the most important event for the coatings industry, bringing together thousands of industry professionals while providing a platform for companies to connect with customers.

ACS 2024 will once again provide attendees with a top-notch experience at the Indiana Convention Center. To allow for additional convenience and attendee flow and interaction, the conference and exhibition will again be held in adjoining areas of the hall, making the transition from sessions to the show floor a natural part of navigating the event and reinforcing the industry's latest technological advancements in both a learning and business setting.

There will be numerous opportunities for product presentations at the ACS 2024, sponsorship opportunities to highlight your presence, and unlimited networking opportunities to engage with current and potential customers in person. In addition, our online ACS CoBranding makes it possible to invite customers and prospects to the event by offering complimentary registration and gives exhibitors valuable information about those registrants.

Each time the biennial ACS and ACC are held, the events draw a record number of attendees, enabling companies and individuals to establish connections and learn about the latest technologies and products the coatings industry has to offer.

Don't hesitate; act now to claim your spot as an exhibitor at the 2024 American Coatings Show. We look forward to seeing you again!

ACS CoBranding: Complimentary Registration for Preferred Clients

We are offering exhibitors great way to receive highly qualified leads prior to the ACS!

Exhibitors may “co-brand” with the American Coatings Show 2024 by incorporating a specially supplied hyperlink directly into the company’s marketing efforts. This link is especially designed for customers and prospects and may be paired with ACS 2024 logos noted for comarketing use. Once an individual registers for the show through your company’s hyperlink, two things happen:

1. Preferred clients and prospects will receive FREE trade show admission; and
2. Upon request, show management will provide you with the leads generated by customers utilizing your customized link for complimentary attendance at the ACS 2024.

This unique opportunity will be available to all ACS exhibitors once registration opens. Customers utilizing the link provided by the exhibitor will generate useful information for scheduling on-site meetings, planning receptions, and an opportunity to associate the exhibitor’s brand with the coating industry’s premier event!
